Dresden is a city of art and culture with a worldwide reputation. The museums in the town on the Elbe present the visitor with incomparable collections, which have numbered among Europe’s most famous sights since the seventeenth century.

There are more than 40 museums to discover, preserving history, art, technology and knowledge in a unique manner. A truly encyclopaedic compendium of history and world art of all epochs awaits the visitor.

“Museums in Dresden” is designed to aid tourists and visitors in finding their orientation as they explore the city’s magnificent museum landscape.

Dresden’s museum landscape is as rich in diversity as its Baroque skyline.

Our gallery belongs to the ART AREA in Dresden’s Baroque Quarter.
10 minutes walk from the historic city centre (Church of our Lady), near the Golden Horseman.
HIGHLIGHTS OF DRESDEN’S MUSEUMS

What made Dresden world-famous as a city of art and culture is its varied and unequalled museum landscape. Whether you are more interested in history or in art – Dresden has something to suit every taste.

The Old Masters picture gallery shows an extraordinary collection of first-rate paintings, the most famous of which is certainly Raphael’s Sistine Madonna. The Technische Sammlungen (engineering museum) ushers technically interested visitors into new realms with displays on such topics as photography, sound recording and fire.

Dresden’s most recent new attraction is the Bundeswehr Museum of Military History. It is located in the arsenal built in 1877 and in the new extension designed by American architect Daniel Libeskind. The new presentation marks a break with history. Its intent is clear: the museum is moving away from the mere display of war equipment and toward multidimensionality. Questions about the social roots, effects and nuances of war are now the main focus.

The Green Vault is one of the richest treasure chambers in Europe. Here, between 1723 and 1730, Augustus the Strong realized his vision in a combination of architecture and art as an expression of his wealth and power. After extensive restoration work this treasury, badly damaged in the Second World War, has been restored to its historical shape and glory.

Opening times: daily 10 am – 7 pm, Tue closed

Admission: access is regulated by means of time tickets, advance ticket sales at www.skd.museum, 10.00 Euro (including audio guide), plus 2.00 Euro advance ticket sale fee, visitors to the age of 16 free of charge

Extras: audio guide (GB, FR, RU, ES, IT, PL, CZ, JP), café, shop

One may visit either the Historic or the New Green Vault; the latter perfectly complements the former. Walking around it, visitors can admire over a thousand precious objects created in the Renaissance and Baroque periods. The presentation in non-reflecting glass showcases allows visitors to be captivated by their infinite richness of detail.

Opening times: daily 10 am – 6 pm, Tue closed

Admission: Residenzschloss and special exhibitions included: 10.00/7.50 Euro, visitors to the age of 16 free of charge, groups (min. 10 persons) 9.00 Euro pp

(Tram Nos. 4/10 or Bus No. 61 to “Pohlandplatz”)

The museum resides in an outstanding building that was once the core of Dresden’s photographic industry. The exhibition focusses on the history of audiovisual technology and micro electronics. In the Mathematics Adventure Land both children and grown-ups explore fascinating phenomena of science. The 48-metre-high tower offers a wonderful view of the city.

Opening times: Tue – Fri 9 am – 5 pm, Sat/Sun/holidays 10 am – 6 pm
Admission: 4.00/3.00 Euro, tower (without exhibition) 2.00/1.50 Euro, children to the age of 6 free of charge
Extras: guided tours, café, shop, Epsilon – The Adventureland for the Youngest, experimental field, cinema, tower parties, family Sundays
TÜRCKISCHE CAMMER

TURKISH CHAMBER IN THE ARMOURY

Residenzschloss, entrance Schloßstraße or Taschenberg, Taschenberg 2, 01067 Dresden, phone +49 (0)351 49 14 20 00, www.skd.museum (Tram Nos. 4/8/9 to “Theaterplatz”, tram and bus lines to “Postplatz”)

The Türkische Cammer (Turkish Chamber) is one of the oldest and most important collections of Ottoman art anywhere in the world outside Turkey. It was amassed by the electors of Saxony between the 16th and the 19th centuries. As part of the Armoury, its main attractions are Ottoman state tents and life-sized Arab stallions.

Opening times: daily 10 am – 6 pm, Tue closed

Admission: Residenzschloss and special exhibitions included: 10.00/7.50 Euro, visitors to the age of 16 free of charge, groups (min. 10 persons) 9.00 Euro pp

Extras: café, shop, guide to the museum and catalogues, museum for children and families

VERKEHRSMUSEUM

DRESDEN TRANSPORT MUSEUM

Augustusstraße 1, 01067 Dresden, phone +49 (0)351 86 44-0, www.verkehrsmuseum-dresden.de (Tram Nos. 1/2/3/4/7/12 or Bus Nos. 62/75 to “Pirnaischer Platz”, Tram Nos. 1/2/4 to “Altmarkt”)

Trains, automobiles, bicycles, aircraft, ships: Every means of transportation known to man is presented here in the original or as a model, e.g. Germany’s first fully functional steam locomotive, the Saxonia of 1839 (replica), and a three-wheeled Phänomobil. The “Johanneum”, where the electors once “parked” their coaches and horses, provides a splendid setting.

Opening times: daily 10 am – 6 pm, Mon closed (except Easter/Pentecost)

Admission: 7.00/3.50 Euro, group and family discounts, children to the age of 5 and kindergarten groups free of charge

Extras: guided tours, shop, shows, catalogue and short guide, film screening “Dresden – 1913 bis 2007”, traffic garden for children
